The students of all the sections displayed their oratory skills and spoke confidently on the assigned topics. This session helped leading the learners increase their ability of spontaneous speech without any preparation by evaluating their creativity, presence of mind and command over language in ‘a span of a minute’.

‘Teaching my Grandma to use a smartphone’, ‘The worst superpower’, ‘A much needed invention’, ‘Would you rather use tablets/books in classes?’, ‘Surviving a zombie apocalypse’ were some of the topics provided to the students for the activity.
