

Impressive display of oratory

JM International School, Dwarka organised an inter-school competition Rhetoria. Students from various esteemed schools of Delhi participated and enthralled all with their oratory prowess.

The literary fest consisted of an array of competitions including Deck and Depict on the theme 'technology' for children of the primary wing. A story telling contest for the students of classes III to V was also held in which children mesmerised all with their eloquence. Students from classes VI to VIII contested in the Turncoat competition where they contemplated the relevance and feasibility of the 'odd-even' scheme in Delhi. Students from classes IX to XII deliberated as they favoured and contradicted the impact of 'Ubiquity of e-books' in a debate competition. Each event was adjudged by eminent personalities, who appreciated the competitive spirit of the contestants. School principal Anuradha Govind also congratulated the winners and acknowledged the efforts of the participants.
