

STRENGTHENING RELATIONS

The students of class-VIII of J M International School, Dwarka visited the High Commission of Ghana to donate story books and study material for the children of Ghana. They met Ms Plahar- Aryee who took them to the conference hall. Soon, Samuel Panyin Yalley the High Commissioner of Ghana arrived. He was then introduced to every student, followed by eulogising words for the students for the brilliant idea which motivated them to help Ghana children by contributing their story books and study material, helping strengthen the relationship with international communities. Students quenched their thirst by asking interesting questions which were answered by Jennifer Lartey, Minister, Head of Chancery. She shed light on the life of a diplomat, her experience in India and life in Ghana. She spoke about how education and good friends helped.

Times NIE Date:
5/10/2015