JM International School, Dwarka hosted the annual project expo, Sri-Jan. The occasion saw an array of projects, models, and class presentations exhibited by the students. A resolution tree was placed in the school corridor and each parent was asked to write a resolve to save the environment. Along with the project expo, the school also presented the cultural extravaganza, Aura, where the students of classes VI to XII showcased their talent in front of parents and teachers. The gala began with a floral welcome of the school principal Anuradha Govind. The school choir Surangini performed a mashup of regional, bollywood and international numbers, along with a qawwali. The senior dance troupe, Panache, captivated the audience with their musical on Swachh Bhaarat Baneyein. In another performance, they presented a fusion of several classical dance forms from our country. The students left all appelled with their mime act on 'Mobile Mania.' The cherry on the cake was the finale act, KAR-MAA. The day also marked the launch of Infinity Chocolate Products, the brand created and sustained by the students of JMIS. The effort was highly appreciated by parents.
