Unseen Passage

Q7. Read the passage given below carefully and answer the questions-

Disney is one of the most famous entertainment companies in the world, but it had humble beginnings. It all started with a man named Walt Disney. Walt was born in 1901 in Chicago, Illinois. From a young age, he loved drawing and was fascinated by animation. After serving in World War I, Walt decided to pursue his passion for art and moved to Hollywood to start a career in the entertainment industry.

In 1923, Walt and his brother Roy founded the Disney Brothers Studio. They began creating short animated films featuring a character named Oswald the Lucky Rabbit. However, in 1928, Walt lost the rights to Oswald, which was a huge setback. Instead of giving up, Walt created a new character: Mickey Mouse. Mickey made his debut in the short film "Steamboat Willie," which was one of the first cartoons to have synchronized sound. Mickey Mouse quickly became popular, and the studio began to grow.

As the years went by, Disney created more beloved characters and stories. In 1937, they released their first full-length animated film, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The movie was a huge success and showed that animated films could be just as popular as live-action ones. This success allowed Disney to expand further and produce more classic films like "Cinderella," "Peter Pan," and "Sleeping Beauty."

Today, Disney is not just known for its movies but also for its theme parks, television networks, and merchandise. The company continues to entertain and inspire people of all ages around the world, all thanks to Walt Disney's dream and determination.
