Glimpse of the Event

Objectives:

The primary objective of Compassion and Kindness Rocks Activity activity was

- to foster a culture of empathy, positivity, and connection within the community.
- to encourage the idea that small gestures, like placing a painted rock, can have a wide-reaching impact on others.

“Spreading Kindness, One Rock at a Time.” - Megan Murphy

The Good Samaritan Club Activity of MBS International School organized a Compassion and Kindness Rocks activity for the students of class VI where the students eagerly participated in designing and painting their rocks. They used a variety of colors and techniques to create unique and vibrant designs. Many students included uplifting messages or motivational quotes on their rocks, reflecting their understanding of the activity’s objectives. Students participated in discussions about the impact of their actions. They talked about the potential positive effects of small acts of kindness on others and reflected on how they could continue to practice empathy and kindness in their daily lives
