Along the way, they spotted a variety of plants—bright yellow sunflowers, small wild berries, and tall, green grass swaying in the wind. When they finally reached the top, they were amazed by the stunning view. From there, they could see their entire village, the fields of sugarcane and rice, and the winding river that passed through the valley. Aryan took out his camera and clicked a few pictures to remember the moment. Kavya took a deep breath and said, “This is the best part of the whole hike!” After resting for a while and enjoying the view, Aryan and Kavya began their descent.
