"Clean Earth, Happy Future – Say No to Pollution!"

On National Pollution Control Day, ITL Public School organized engaging activities for students across classes I to V to raise awareness about pollution control.

Classes I to III: Students wrote powerful slogans like "Save Earth, Save Life – Say No to Pollution!" to promote a cleaner environment.

Class IV: Students created infographics, sharing eco-friendly steps to reduce pollution, such as conserving water and reducing waste.

Class V: Inspired by the quote "We never know the worth of water till the well is dry" by Thomas Fuller, Class V students made agamographs highlighting the effects of air, water, soil, and noise pollution.

The activities successfully encouraged students to express their creativity while raising awareness about pollution control and environmental protection.
