“Skills are the wings that let creativity fly.”

Skill Week 2025 at ITL Public School was a vibrant celebration of creativity, confidence, and hands-on learning. Held on from 15-18 July 2025, the event brought together students from Classes I to VIII, showcasing their talents through engaging, skill-based activities — with enthusiastic support from their parents.

Students from Classes I to V at ITL Public School showcased their creativity through a series of engaging and hands-on activities. The young artists of Class I brought life to plain ceramic mugs with cheerful and imaginative designs in the Creative Mug Art activity. Class II students turned simple earthen pots into vibrant masterpieces using colourful mosaic tiles, while Class III learners used recycled materials to create stunning wall décor, promoting sustainability through art. In Class IV, students experimented with textures and hues to design charming Boho Décor items, reflecting a fusion of tradition and style. Class V students demonstrated a keen eye for detail as they crafted elegant Mosaic Wall Mirrors with intricate patterns. Each activity provided a joyful platform for artistic expression and skill development.

Students of Classes VI to VIII enthusiastically participated in a series of hands-on creative sessions aimed at promoting traditional crafts and sustainable practices.

In the clay cup designing activity 'Earthen Elegance', Class VI students creatively upcycled used ceramic and clay cups, turning them into artistic and decorative items. This activity not only allowed them to explore their artistic skills but also highlighted the importance of sustainability and repurposing old materials in imaginative ways.

The crochet-making workshop, 'Crochet Magic', introduced students of Class VII, to the timeless art of looping yarn into beautiful patterns. Under guided instruction, they learned basic crochet techniques and created small decorative pieces, fostering patience, focus, and creativity.

The embroidery session, on pillow covers, 'Elegant Embroidery' gave the students of Class VIII, an opportunity to explore the intricate art of needlework. They experimented with simple stitches and designs, adding a personal touch to their fabric pieces and discovering the joy of handmade expression.

These engaging activities not only honed the fine motor skills of the learners but also instilled a sense of pride in traditional crafts and eco-friendly practices. The week served as a celebration of creativity, skill-building, and cultural appreciation.
