

TRACE AND DRAW FUN

ACTIVITY: One-to-One Correspondence – Trace and Draw Fun!

DATE: 11 August 2025

CONDUCTED BY: PreSchool B

Our young learners had an exciting and creative morning participating in a One-to-One Correspondence activity designed to make learning both fun and skill-building. ☁️💧 Armed with crayons and pencils, the children enthusiastically coloured big, fluffy clouds and then carefully drew neat, slanting lines to represent falling rain.

This engaging task was more than just an art activity—it was a hands-on way to develop early math concepts by helping children understand that each drawn raindrop corresponds to a part of the cloud. At the same time, it strengthened fine motor skills, hand-eye coordination, pencil control, and focus.

The smiles, concentration, and excitement on their faces were proof that they were not only learning but also truly enjoying themselves. Activities like these create a wonderful blend of creativity, motor development, and conceptual understanding, setting a strong foundation for future learning.
