ITL Public School organized a Career Counselling Seminar for Classes XI and XII to equip students with clarity, direction, and future-ready skills. The session was led by Mr. Sidhant Nagpal of Prodigy Consultancy Services, an AI-enabled, human-led university readiness ecosystem for high school students.

The seminar highlighted key offerings of the Student Guidance App and Portal, including personalized access through dedicated logins with centralized resources on courses, universities, and emerging opportunities, along with a scientific career assessment based on comprehensive psychometric testing to evaluate aptitude, personality, and academic strengths. Students were also assured continuous support through dedicated counsellors, individual WhatsApp groups, monthly video sessions, and regular in-school counselling interactions.

Mr. Sidhant Nagpal engaged students through interactive discussions and real-life examples, helping them reflect on their aspirations and set clear, achievable goals. Success stories and practical insights further motivated students, while the assurance of one-to-one parent interactions added a holistic dimension to the guidance process.

The session concluded with an engaging Q&A segment, where queries were addressed thoughtfully. It also provided valuable updates on emerging courses, universities, and admission trends, offering structured and practical guidance that empowered students to make informed and confident decisions about their academic and professional journeys.
