Glimpse of the Event

The "Talk in a Minute" activity was conducted for Grade VII students as part of the Kaushal Bodh Club Activity. The objective of the activity was to foster spontaneous speaking skills, confidence, and clarity of thought among students. The classrooms were well-organised, creating an encouraging and engaging environment for all participants. Students participated enthusiastically and showed eagerness to express their ideas.

At the beginning of the activity, students were briefed about the rules and objectives. Each participant was asked to pick a surprise topic from a bowl. The topics included imaginative and thought-provoking prompts such as "If I woke up invisible," "My life as a school principal," "A day without technology," and "If animals ruled the world."

Students were given 15 minutes to organise their thoughts, after which they presented their ideas for one minute. Each student confidently came forward and spoke on their chosen topic, showcasing their creativity, fluency, and originality of ideas. The activity witnessed a variety of unique perspectives and imaginative responses. Some students used humour, while others expressed deep and thoughtful ideas. The audience remained attentive and supportive, encouraging each participant with applause.

Towards the end, students reflected on their experience and shared how the activity helped them overcome stage fright and think quickly. The activity concluded successfully, promoting confidence, creativity, and effective communication skills among students.

Judgement Criteria:

- Confidence and Body Language
- Fluency and Clarity

- Creativity of Ideas
- Relevance to Topic
- Voice Modulation
