Dear Diary

Today was a very special day. I learned to ride my new bicycle without any support. I was very excited to learn. I wore my helmet and went to the park with my father. He guided me and told me not to be afraid.

At first, balancing was very difficult. I fell down once or twice, but I did not give up. I kept practising. After some time, I was able to ride my bicycle all by myself. I felt so happy!

My family clapped and cheered for me. We celebrated by having my favourite ice cream. I felt proud, confident, and happy. It was an unforgettable day.
