Dear Parents,
Greetings!

After a peaceful and refreshing break, we are back to our new term. I could feel the zeal and enthusiasm on the faces of our little ones; and parents alike. An array of events were waiting to enthrall and engage our children.

The highlight of the month was the Grandparents Day celebration in school, we could experience the ecstasy of all age groups in our phase. Parent engagement program was another feather in our cap, that we could involve parents to be a part of our daily activities.

Thank you for entrusting us with your child's education. We look forward to a successful and enriching school year together.

Let's sail together!!

Regards,

Ms.Dhanalaxmi

wow moments!

Wow Moment,

When my children come to school, they look fresh and cool with books in hand. They take us through a magical land. Their words fall like a sun's ray. They always had a smile on their faces which taught me compassion, the value of commitment, sincerity and a lot more. The 'wow' moment wasn't just about the talent displayed by the students, but also the realization that as a teacher, I had the ability to inspire and unlock hidden potential in my students. It reminds me of the magic that can happen when we encourage creativity and provide a safe space for self-expression. There are hidden gems in every student, waiting to be discovered. It reinforced the importance of nurturing their confidence and helping them believe in their abilities. It was a wow moment that reminded me why I became a teacher in the first place.

WOW MOMENTS!

In a classroom, teachers strive every day all day to create wow moments for students. But sometimes students give a wow moment to teachers which brings little tears of joy to their eyes. A wow moment is when the content is thoroughly understood and learning happens. Classroom wow moments are full of fun, excitement, at the same time peer learning occurs where students are not only engrossed in their own learnings but also develop their skills. and and one such moment happened in my kindergarten class a few days ago. After a class that particularly went well, feeling happy but a little adventurous; I thought of challenging the children further. With this thought, I asked the children to turn in their task sheets and started a game -where children observed the teacher's actions and wrote the correct letters to form a word. I was sure this was a bit challenging for children gave it a try. And this was my wow moment when I saw all my little ones enjoyed the game and did it correctly!!!! In between when one child missed an action his friends did the action before the teacher so he could write. The joy on my face and the grins on the children's faces when I told them each one of them had done it correctly was a perfect WOW moment. We all stood up and raised our hands together to say yes we did it. That sense on achievement on every child's face WAS WOOWWWW....

These moments although often small but can change someone's day or even have a life-long impact.

GRAND PARENT'S DAY

Credence is always ahead in inculcating values and strengthening the bond of relationships. Consequently, we conducted a Grandparent Day Celebration on Monday, 8th September 2023.

Credence, on this day students of KG1 and KG2 got a golden opportunity to spend some quality time with grandparents. They were so excited to sing, dance, and chit-chat with the grandparents. They were engaged in various activities and shared their past days with the students. Each student spoke about their grandparent by displaying a pleasing video. The grandparents were appreciated with cards and thank you certificates. Even the teachers were held back to their childhood memories.

CHARACTER DRESSUP DAY

As the day was much anticipated by the students and teachers, it could bring a marvel in all the eyes around. All were excited to speak about their costumes and display them to each other. Not only students but teachers also came up in fancy dresses to charm and motivate the students, It was really appreciable to see the efforts of the parents to make the day particular and informative by using recycled materials. Each child was precise about their character and could explain it fluently. It was indeed a spectacular day with loveliness, charm, and a spark of joy.

teachers were much excited to see the various characters which are familiar through cartoons, movies and pictures. The Tiny ones served a visual fiesta in the whole school.

PARENT ENGAGEMENT PROGRAM

Credence High School could experience the ecstasy of the parent community to be a part of the school activities. They were over whelmed to see the little ones adoring their tasks and responding positively. Parents were ready to take up the activities voluntarily and entertain them. Parents could convey a great message of healthy food, sharing, and caring through stories, fireless cooking, Puppet shows, and craft works. They involved students in the activities to make the program more productive. Parents showered their gratitude and appreciation for the opportunity provided by the school.

Credence, a synonym for kindness and harmony wants the children to acquire the feeling of possessing peace and patience through various activities on the day of International Peace. Pre-KG to Grade 1 students experienced the message of Peace through an Oscar-winning short movie. Students could empathize with the video and infer its meaning. They could even speak about the meaning of the movie in their own words. Children made posters and took the oath to spread the message of peace.
