

Mass Reading of Preamble on Constitution Day

On November 26, Delhi Public School, Maruti Kunj celebrated Constitution Day with great enthusiasm and reverence. To mark the occasion, a mass reading of the Preamble to the Indian Constitution was organised. The event aimed to instill a sense of pride and awareness about the foundational values enshrined in the Constitution. Students and teachers united to reaffirm their commitment to these principles. This symbolic act highlighted the importance of upholding constitutional ideals in daily life and served as a reminder of the responsibilities of every citizen. The mass reading of the Preamble was a successful initiative, fostering awareness and solidarity among participants and it reinforced the timeless relevance of the Indian Constitution.
